DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of group I (claims 9-15) in the reply filed on 05/02/2006 is acknowledged.

Claim Rejections

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Initially, and with respect to claims 9, 14 and 15, note that a "product by process" claim is directed to the product per se, no matter how actually made. See In re Thorpe et al., 227 USPQ 964 (CAFC, 1985) and the related case law cited therein which makes it clear that it is the final product per se which must be determined in a "product by process" claim, and not the patentability of the process, and that, as here, an old or obvious product produced by a new method is not patentable as a product, whether claimed in "product by process" claims or not. As stated in Thorpe, even though product-by-process claims are limited by and defined by the process, determination of patentability is based on the product itself. In re Brown, 459 F.2d 531, 535, 173 USPQ 685, 688 (CCPA 1972); In re Pilkington, 411 F.2d 1345, 1348, 162 USPQ 145, 147 (CCPA 1969); Buono v. Yankee Maid Dress Corp., 77 F.2d 274, 279, 26 USPQ 57, 61 (2d. Cir. 1935). Note that Applicant has burden of proof in such cases as the above case law makes clear.

5. Claims 9-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 102(b) as being anticipated by, or in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as obvious over Glass (US 5,323,022).

6. Regarding claims 9-11 and 13, Glass teaches a semiconductor device (e.g. fig. 1) comprising a wide band gap layer 10/12 of semiconductor material (e.g. silicon carbide which is has a band gap of approximately two electron, inherent property of the material); a layer of metal 11(e.g. nickel) disposed on at least a portion of the wide band gap layer; and a substantially ohmic contact region (col. 4/lis. 8-30 & col. 8/lis. 36-40). As to the grounds of rejection under section 103(a), the method for making the contact region by annealing the semiconductor device at an annealing temperature less than approximately 900 Celsius for an annealing temperature of greater than approximately two hours, is an intermediate process step that does not affect the structure of the final device. See MPEP § 2113 which discusses the handling of "product by process" claims and recommends the alternative (§ 102 / § 103) grounds of rejection.

7. Regarding claim 12, Glass teaches that the semiconductor material include n type silicon carbide (col. 4/lis. 8-15).

8. Regarding claim 14, the method for making the contact region by annealing the semiconductor device at an annealing temperature less than approximately 850 Celsius for an annealing temperature of greater than approximately three hours, is an intermediate process step that does not affect the structure of the final device. See MPEP § 2113 which discusses the handling of "product by process" claims and recommends the alternative (§ 102 / § 103) grounds of rejection.

9. Regarding claim 15, the method for making the contact region by annealing the semiconductor device at an annealing temperature less than approximately 800 Celsius for an annealing temperature of greater than approximately four hours, is an intermediate process step that does not affect the structure of the final device. See MPEP § 2113 that discusses the handling of "product by process" claims and recommends the alternative (§ 102 / § 103) grounds of rejection.
